

Are you good at scrutinising information, do you have an eye for detail and could spare a few evenings for a week or so?

Each branch needs an Accounts Examiner to scrutinise its financial records, accounts and the report prepared for the AGM in good time for the Treasurer to present it.

The role is once a year in advance of the branch AGM.

It's not necessary to be a qualified auditor, but you would need to become familiar with CAMRA's financial policies.

The Accounts Examiner cannot be a member of the branch committee (though may be a member of another branch's committee), nor a member of CAMRA's National Executive.
